I. PURPOSE

The purpose of this Assistance Guide is to connect New Jersey residents affected by Hurricane Sandy. The Guide lists information on many programs and agencies. Updates and verification are on-going. Updates are available at www.nj211.org.

The Guide is arranged in sections based on needs and the types of services provided. Where applicable there are tables arranged to show help available statewide and within the counties. Phone numbers and specific information regarding service eligibility, hours etc. may also be outlined.

You are welcome to call "2-1-1" 24 hours a day, seven days a week for help in finding available disaster assistance services. Language translation and TTY services are offered to any caller. You can also visit www.nj211.org to review the flood resource section, search the database of services in your local community or to chat live with an experienced community resource specialist. 2-1-1 will help identify with you the best local resources to fit your individual needs after a disaster or for life's everyday situations.

Emotional support for people affected by disasters or other overwhelming events is available by calling New Jersey Mental Health Cares' Disaster Mental Health Helpline (877) 294-HELP (4357), where experienced crisis counselors can be reached. A TTY line is also available at (877) 294-4356. The line is staffed from 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM weekdays. You may leave a message at other times and a mental health professional will return your call.

Additionally, the Disaster Distress Helpline, a national hotline, may be reached at 800-985-5990. Helpline staff provide immediate crisis counseling and help to people affected by Hurricane Sandy. You can also text "TalkWithUs" to 66746 and begin the process of recovery. TTY for Deaf/Hearing Impaired: 1-800-846-8517

II. GETTING STARTED

Disaster Declaration 4086-DR

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) announced that federal disaster aid has been made available to the State of New Jersey and ordered federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts in the area affected by Hurricane Sandy beginning on October 26, 2012, and continuing.

President Obama approved a Major Disaster Declaration (FEMA-4086-DR-NJ) for the State of New Jersey for Hurricane Sandy on October 30, 2012. The President's action makes federal funding available to affected individuals in Atlantic, Bergen, Cape May, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, Somerset and Union counties. On November 6 this declaration was extended to include all 21 counties in the state. Assistance can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low-cost loans to cover uninsured property losses, and other programs to help individuals and business owners recover from the effects of the disaster.

On November 4 Governor Christie announced that FEMA Public Assistance was expanded to include all 21 counties in New Jersey. Public Assistance Program funding is now available to state and eligible local governments and certain private nonprofit organizations on a cost-sharing basis for debris removal and emergency protective measures, and the repair or replacement of facilities damaged by Hurricane Sandy. All counties in the State of New Jersey are eligible to apply for assistance under the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP).

Residents and business owners who sustained losses in the designated counties can begin applying for assistance by registering online , by web enabled mobile device at m.fema.gov or by calling 1-800-621-FEMA(3362) or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) for the hearing and speech impaired. The toll-free telephone numbers will operate from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. EDT seven days a week until further notice

Insurance Claims

If your property has suffered damage, call the agent who handles your insurance to file a claim. A homeowner's policy covers damage to your home and its contents while a renter's policy only covers contents. If your car was damaged, a separate claim is required to be filed with your auto insurer.

The standard homeowner's or renter's policy does not cover flood damage. If you have a policy with the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), contact your agent or insurer to file a claim for that policy as well. You need to file a separate claim even if done through a Write Your Own policy from your insurer. Damage from a storm surge is considered flood damage. If you have suffered damage related to flooding conditions and do not know if you have flood insurance, you can call the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620 to confirm your current flood insurance and to find out where to submit your claim.

If you are unable to stay at home, make sure to say where you can be reached. To make filing your claim easier, take photos of the house and save damaged personal property. If necessary, place these items outside the home. An insurance adjuster will need to see what is damaged in order to process your claim. If FEMA assistance is available to you because you live in the area included in the declaration you are expected to contact your insurance company first. FEMA may only help with damage not covered by your insurance policy.

After reporting your claim, an adjuster will visit your home to assess the damage. The adjuster will want to see all damaged items removed from the home and any photos or video of contents removed to make the home safe. The more information provided about the loss, the faster the claim process is usually settled.

Insurance Problems

If your insurance company has not responded promptly to your claim, do not hesitate to call the company's claims department to find out if an adjuster has been assigned. Call the Department of Banking and Insurance Hotline at 609-292-7272 if you do not think your insurance company is responding quickly enough, or completing a reasonable investigation of your claim. If you have a flood insurance policy and are experiencing problems with your claim call the National Flood Insurance Program Hotline at 888-435-6637.

File Insurance Claims at Mobile Catastrophe Units

Some insurance companies are offering claims processing at mobile catastrophe units [http://www.state.nj.us/dobi/division_consumers/insurance/mobileclaims.htm] located throughout the state. These locations provide an additional alternative for residents to file their insurance claims besides the typical routes such as through one's insurance agent or via telephone. This list will constantly be changing, so please check back to see if additional companies and locations have been added.

Disaster Recovery Centers

Disaster Recovery Centers (DRCs) had opened throughout the state to assist individuals, households and businesses affected by Hurricane Irene. All locations are now closed.

FEMA Assistance Programs

*FEMA disaster assistance is not counted as income, is not taxed, and has no effect on Social Security or other government benefits. Applications for assistance will be accepted through May 1, 2013.

Individual Assistance is disaster assistance directed to families, individuals and businesses within a declared disaster area. Assistance can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low-cost loans to cover uninsured property losses, and other programs to help individuals and business owners recover from the effects of the disaster. Specific information on what is covered under individual assistance is available here. [http://www.fema.gov/assistance/process/assistance.shtm]

Public Assistance provides assistance to states, local governments, and certain non-profit organizations for emergency work and the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged facilities.

Hazard Mitigation Grant Program which provides assistance to State and local governments and certain private, nonprofit organizations for actions taken to prevent or reduce long term risk to life and property from natural hazards, is available to all counties in the State of New Jersey. All are eligible to apply for assistance under the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program.

Filing for FEMA Assistance

If you have been impacted by the recent storm you must first register with FEMA to get assistance!

You may apply online [http://www.disasterassistance.gov/] and or by calling 1-800-621-3362; TTY users can call 1-800-462-7585. The call takes about 20 minutes. If call volume is high, you may have trouble getting through. In that case it is recommended that you call during off-hours (after 5:00 PM and before 8:00 AM.) The system is automated. Please have a pen and paper ready whether you file on the phone or online. You will also need the following information:

- Five Digit Zip Code
- Current Contact Telephone Number
- Social Security Number
- Current Mailing Address and Address of Damaged Property
- Date the Damage Occurred
- Directions to the Property
- Brief Description of Damaged Property
- Insurance Information and Policy Number(s)
- Family Gross Income
- A Bank Routing Number if you want funds deposited directly to your bank account. Lookup your bank routing number online here [http://www.fededirectory.frb.org/search.cfm].

Note: FEMA verifies the name and social security number of those registering for disaster assistance. If the name and social security number on file with the Social Security Administration does not match the information you provide, you will be asked to submit a copy of an original document, e.g. marriage license, military ID, tax documents, etc., for proof of identity. A need to review and update identity documentation may cause delays in delivery of assistance.

Be sure to use a phone number on your application where you can be reached by FEMA. Inspectors only attempt to reach an applicant 3 times and then the case is put into "voluntary withdrawal". It is EXTREMELY important that FEMA has the correct, current phone number to contact applicants. The case will be re-opened when the client contacts FEMA. To minimize the times this happens, please ensure that you notify FEMA if your phone number or address has changed. This is done by calling the FEMA Helpline (800-621-FEMA/800-621-3362) or by establishing an account online.

Be sure to get a FEMA application number. After you've completed your application for assistance, you will receive a FEMA application number. Write down this number and keep it for future reference. If you do not have a FEMA Registration Number, you will not receive services. You can also use the number for identification at banks, airlines, etc. if your identification has been destroyed.

Ask for help in filing if you need to. If you or someone you know needs help filling out a FEMA application due to age or disability, help is available by calling NJ Ease at 1-877-222-3737.

FEMA Assistance for Immigrant Families

FEMA helps the Household - the Family. If anyone in the family qualifies (eg. a child born in the United States, or a father with a green card), then the FAMILY qualifies for FEMA help.

FEMA Outreach Efforts Continue

Residents of the affected counties who have made application for Federal Assistance or who plan on making application for federal assistance will be contacted by fully credentialed Inspectors to schedule an appointment to inspect damage and to determine eligibility for any funded programs. The New Jersey Office of Emergency Management has established Community Relations teams with our FEMA partners. These teams will be visiting the affected areas of the State to conduct further outreach to those residents who may be eligible and may be in need of assistance due to the most recent disaster.

After Applying for FEMA Assistance

Inspectors contracted by the Federal Emergency Management Agency are contacting New Jersey residents who have applied for disaster assistance. These inspectors have approved FEMA identification badges that include the inspectors name and photo, and the name of the company under contract with FEMA. They will ask for information to verify your name and address and registration with FEMA. They will NOT ask for a Social Security number nor ask to be paid for the inspection. The FEMA inspection is FREE, so beware of fraudulent individuals attempting to charge for an inspection.

The inspection generally takes 30 - 40 minutes, during which the inspector will assess disaster-related damage for both real and personal property and may take photos of the interior and exterior of the damaged dwelling. The inspector will then enter damage-related information into a handheld computer and send that data electronically to FEMA. The inspector does not determine whether a registrant is eligible for assistance, or the amount of a FEMA grant the individual may receive.

The inspector will ask the applicant to sign a form authorizing FEMA to verify that the information given is accurate. Within about 10 days a letter will be sent by FEMA to the applicant with notification about the decision of whether the applicant is eligible for help. If you are eligible, that letter will be followed by a check (or there will be an electronic transfer to the appropriate bank account). The letter will explain what the money can be used to pay for, and applicants should be careful to use the funds as indicated.

Recovering from Disaster with Help from FEMA and Private Insurance

Keep in mind that FEMA assistance and insurance coverage are two pieces of the same "recovery puzzle". Disaster assistance through FEMA may cover damages that insurance doesn't. That is why individuals affected by Hurricane Sandy are urged to apply for assistance even if they have insurance. Only applying directly with FEMA will establish your registration for disaster assistance. Signing up or meeting with any other agency does not mean you are registered with FEMA.

You need to file your insurance claim with your insurance company as soon as possible as well. Failure to file a claim may affect a policyholder's eligibility for disaster assistance. You have up to 12 months from the date of registration with FEMA to submit insurance information for review.

By law, FEMA cannot duplicate what insurance already covers, but FEMA may be able to help with some disaster-related expenses, that are not covered by insurance. After filing a claim, if any of the following situations occur FEMA may be able to provide some assistance:

- Your insurance settlement is delayed. "Delayed" means a decision on your insurance settlement has been delayed longer than 30-days from the time you filed the claim. If a decision on your insurance settlement has been delayed, you will need to mail a letter or send a FAX to FEMA at the address noted below explaining the circumstance. You should include documentation from the insurance company proving that you filed the claim. If you filed your claim over the telephone, you should include the claim number, date when you applied, and the estimated time of how long it will take to receive your settlement. Please Note: If you receive FEMA assistance and you later find that your insurance will cover what your FEMA assistance was for, then you must return that money to FEMA because it is considered a duplicate benefit.
- Your insurance settlement is insufficient to meet your disaster-related needs. If you have received the maximum settlement from your insurance and still have an unmet disaster-related need, you will need to mail or FAX a letter to FEMA at the address noted below indicating the unmet disaster-related need. You will also need to send in documentation from your insurance company on what they cover for review.

- You have exhausted the Additional Living Expenses (ALE) provided by your insurance company. If you have received the maximum settlement from your insurance for Additional Living Expenses and still need help with your disaster-related temporary housing need, mail or FAX a letter to FEMA at the address noted below indicating why you continue to have a temporary housing need. You will also need to provide documentation to prove use of ALE from insurance, and a permanent housing plan.
- You are unable to locate rental resources in your area. The FEMA Helpline (800-621-3362) has a list of rental resources in the disaster area.

Mail or FAX your letter to:

FEMA
IHP National Processing Service Center
PO Box 10055
Hyattsville, MD 20782-8055

FAX 1-800-827-8112

Other Financial Assistance through SBA

SBA provides low interest disaster loans to homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes and private, non-profit organizations to repair or replace real estate, personal property, machinery & equipment, inventory and business assets that have been damaged or destroyed in a declared disaster. Even if you don't get approved for this loan or don't want to accept the loan, you should apply because it will open the doorway for other potential opportunities for financial assistance. The filing deadline to return applications for physical property damage has been extended to March 1, 2013. The deadline to return economic injury applications is July 31, 2013. Learn more about this topic by reading the section in this Guide devoted to SBA Loans.

What to do if FEMA Assistance is Denied

If applicants receive a letter from FEMA that states that they are ineligible, it does not necessarily mean an applicant is not eligible for disaster assistance. If the letter states "ineligible" or "incomplete," more information may be needed, such as the applicant's insurance documents or proof of status of their claim, prior to disaster aid being granted.

FEMA requires homeowners and renters to provide insurance and other information at the time of registration. After a disaster, important documents may not be readily available or may be destroyed. Applicants for disaster aid can update their information about insurance and residency at any point during the application process. A determination letter sent by FEMA will specifically explain why an application needs to be revisited. It might ask for insurance settlement documentation for property damaged or destroyed, or for documents reflecting proof of occupancy or ownership of the damaged property.

Other reasons an applicant may receive a denial letter include:

- The damaged property is not listed as your primary residence at the time of the disaster.
- The damage was due to pre-existing conditions.
- The disaster damage was not documented.
- The FEMA housing inspector cannot reach the applicant by phone.
- Someone else in the household has already applied for assistance.
- The application is not complete.

Applicants have several options to obtain clarification on their letters, they can visit a Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) or they can call the FEMA helpline at 1-800-621-3362, or TTY 1-800-462-7585. In the DRCs, applicants will find representatives from the state, FEMA, the SBA and other organizations. The FEMA representatives can provide clarity on the letter and guidance on what additional documentation is needed.

Applicants have 60 days from the date of their determination letter to formally appeal the FEMA decision. All appeals must be in writing and should include the disaster identification registration number. Appeals must be signed so you are not permitted to submit a formal appeal via email. The appeal should include new or missing information, documents and damage repair estimates that support the appeal request.

Mail appeals to:

FEMA – Appeals Officer
National Processing Service Center
PO Box 10055
Hyattsville, MD 20782-8055

Appeals may be faxed to: 1-800-827-8112

FEMA Fact or Fiction

- MYTH: I've already cleaned up the damage to my home and had the repairs made. Isn't it too late to register once the work is done?
FACT: You may be eligible for reimbursement of your clean up and repair costs, even if repairs are complete.
- MYTH: I'm a renter. I thought FEMA assistance was only for homeowners for home repairs.
FACT: FEMA assistance is not just for homeowners. FEMA may provide assistance to help renters who lost personal property or who were displaced.
- MYTH: FEMA assistance could affect my Social Security benefits, taxes, food stamps or Medicaid.
FACT: FEMA assistance does not affect benefits from other federal programs and is not considered taxable income.
- MYTH: My insurance agent told me I could not get help from FEMA because I have flood insurance.
FACT: Even if you have flood insurance you should register. FEMA may be able to help with uninsured costs.
- MYTH: I heard registration involves a lot of red tape and paperwork.

FACT: There is no paperwork to register with FEMA. The process is very easy and normally takes between 15 and 20 minutes.

- MYTH: I believe FEMA only makes loans so I didn't apply for help because I don't want a loan.

FACT: FEMA only provides grants. The grants may cover expenses for temporary housing, home repairs, replacement of damaged personal property and other disaster-related needs such as medical, dental or transportation costs not covered by insurance or other programs. They don't have to be repaid.

Report False Damage Claims

If you suspect someone is filing false damage claims, please report it. Help FEMA make sure that disaster aid goes only to those who deserve it. It is a violation of federal law to file a false claim.

Report a false damage claim: Call (800) 323-8603 or E-mail: DHSOIGHOTLINE@dhs.gov .

The National Center for Disaster Fraud (NCDF) was established to receive and screen reports from the public about possible fraud relating to disasters of all types, and to refer those reports to appropriate federal law enforcement agencies.

Members of the public who wish to report FEMA and disaster-related fraud may contact the NCDF:

By Phone (877) NCDF GCF (623-3423)

SBA Loans

SBA provides low interest disaster loans to homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes and private, non-profit organizations to repair or replace real estate, personal property, machinery & equipment, inventory and business assets that have been damaged or destroyed in a declared disaster. Even if you don't get approved for this loan or don't want to accept the loan, you should apply because it will open the doorway for other potential opportunities for financial assistance. The filing deadline to return applications for physical property damage has been extended to April 1, 2013. The deadline to return economic injury applications is July 31, 2013.

Interest rates for these loans are low with terms up to 30 years. Loan amounts and terms are set by the SBA and are based on each applicant's financial condition.

- SBA disaster loans up to $200,000 are available to homeowners to repair/replace real estate.
- Homeowners and renters are eligible for up to $40,000 from SBA to repair/replace personal property.

- Businesses of any size may borrow up to $2 million to repair or replace damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory and other business assets.

Filling out the SBA home loan application is a necessary step in order to be considered for some other forms of disaster assistance. Applicants may be eligible for more aid.

Even residents of Barrier Islands should apply for assistance. Although you may live in a Coastal Barrier Resource Act designated area [http://www.fws.gov/CBRA/index.html] you should still apply for a SBA loan. SBA encourages everyone to apply and not worry about whether they are in a Coastal Barrier Resource Act designated area.

If SBA is unable to approve a home loan, the applicant may be referred back to FEMA for some other disaster aid. Applicants may be awarded assistance for personal items, repair or replacement of a vehicle, etc.

To be considered for all forms of disaster assistance call the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) at 800-621-FEMA (3362). The locations of Disaster Recovery Centers are listed in earlier pages of this guide. Answers to questions about the loan application process can be obtained by calling the SBA Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for the hearing impaired), Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. EDT or by sending an e-mail to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.

Those affected by this disaster may complete loan applications online by visiting SBA's secure website. [https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/]

SBA Business Recovery Centers

The U.S. Small Business Administration had opened Business Recovery Centers in every county of the state. These centers provided one-on-one assistance to business owners seeking disaster assistance for losses caused by Hurricane Sandy. All locations closed as of May 23.

Assistance is still available for small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture, and most private non-profit organizations, to apply for Economic Injury Disaster Loans to help meet working capital needs caused by Hurricane Sandy. The deadline to return economic injury loan application is July 31, 2013. Additional information on the disaster loan program can be obtained by calling SBA's Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for the deaf and hard-of-hearing) or by sending an email to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov .

Other Needs Assistance (ONA)

New Jersey residents who did not receive reimbursement from FEMA for items purchased in direct response to Hurricane Irene may qualify under a separate FEMA grant program: Other Needs Assistance (ONA).

The purpose of ONA is to provide financial assistance to individuals and households who have no applicable insurance and may have been denied by the U.S. Small Business Administration Disaster Assistance program. FEMA may be able to reimburse you for disaster-related purchases. In order to be considered you must provide receipts documenting the purchases. Lost receipts can often be replaced at the original place of purchase.

Disaster-related items eligible for reimbursement may include:

- Smoke detectors
- Dehumidifiers
- Chainsaws
- Carbon monoxide detectors
- Weather radios

III. IMMEDIATE ASSISTANCE

The American Red Cross and the Salvation Army are considered First Responders in an emergency. Necessities such as shelter, food, clothing, or cleaning materials can often be obtained from these organizations.

The Red Cross provides immediate emergency assistance to people affected by disaster, such as; shelter, food and water, health and mental health services to address basic human needs. The goal of Red Cross disaster relief is to enable individuals and families to resume their normal daily activities independently. If your home is unlivable, contact your local Red Cross for assistance in meeting your disaster-related emergency needs. Evacuation Routes and Road Conditions

Evacuation routes for areas throughout NJ, current road conditions and reports on mass transit closures are available at www.nj511.org or by dialing 5-1-1. Other emergency evacuation information may be available in the Local Resource section of this resource guide.

Emergency Shelter

A nearly real-time listing of Red Cross emergency shelters throughout the state is accessible at <http://app.redcross.org/nss-app/> or by calling your local Red Cross chapter [<http://www.redcross.org/cgi-bin/chapts-new.asp#NJ>]. A comprehensive list of shelters that has been organized by county is also available in the Local Resource section of this resource guide and is based upon information received from the American Red Cross, Salvation Army and active network of volunteer organizations in our state.

Once initial emergency response efforts are concluded shelters will close and alternate housing must be found. ALL EMERGENCY SHELTERS ARE NOW CLOSED IN OUR STATE. If you are one of the thousands in our area who must find another place to live while your home is being repaired or replaced go to the housing section of this guide and learn about the resources available to you.

Please Remember Your Pets: If you are ever evacuated, you need to bring your pets with you. Some shelters are pet friendly, but many are not. Additionally, some counties have deployed their County Animal Response Team to shelter animals. The NJ Department of Agriculture recommends that you ask a dependable friend or relative who lives some distance from the evacuation area if you and your pets can stay with them until the all clear is given.

An alternative is to find a pet friendly motel. Following are links to websites that can help you do just that.

Assistance with Food

NJ SNAP

Those who were enrolled in NJ SNAP (formerly known as Food Stamps) before the storm, can receive assistance through the SNAP Program to replace lost food. If you received food stamps before the storm and live in an area where over 50% of the population was without power you will receive a reimbursement of 25 percent of your October monthly SNAP allotment, allowing you to replace a portion of the food you may have lost during the power outage.

You must live in one of these counties to be eligible for automatic reimbursement: Atlantic, Bergen, Cape May, Essex, Hudson, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren. If you do, you will receive the following benefits:

- SNAP replacement benefit of 25% automatically within the next few weeks on your EBT card. You do not need to call or visit your county welfare agency. The reimbursement will take place automatically.
- The prepared food waiver also allows you, for a limited time, to purchase hot and cold prepared meals from participating stores with your benefits, an exception to the SNAP rules.

Help is available to SNAP recipients living in the remaining counties. Individuals and families on SNAP from the counties of Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Gloucester and Salem also are eligible for the replacement benefit, but must go to their county welfare office to apply. If you live in one of these counties you are not eligible for the hot food benefit.

Disaster Food Stamps (D-SNAP)

Though millions of people throughout the state were without power and as a result lost perishable food supplies, D-SNAP is a federal safety-net subsidy available only to people who are at risk for hunger because their disaster-recovery expenses have left them without enough money to buy food. Applications for the program began on Monday, November 26 and ran for seven business days, concluding on either Monday, December 3rd or Tuesday, December 4th, depending on whether a particular county processes applications on Saturday, December 1st. Eligible recipients who applied for this benefit will receive their benefit by December 7 on an Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) card that can only be used for the purchase of grocery food items.

If you are in need of food, visit End Hunger NJ [http://endhungernj.com/] where you will find a food pantry in your area.

Some food pantries and soup kitchens in Ocean and Monmouth counties have been closed due to damage sustained by the storm. Find an open food pantry or soup kitchen in Ocean County. [images/HurricaneSandy/Oceancountyfoodpantries.pdf] Find an open food pantry or soup kitchen in Monmouth County. [images/HurricaneSandy/Monmouthcountyfoodpantries.pdf] Operational hours may have changed and supplies may be limited so be sure to call before you go to verify details. You may need an ID to prove residency and will be asked to declare that you were affected by the disaster.

FEMA's Sheltering and Temporary Essential Power (STEP) Pilot Program

FEMA's Sheltering and Temporary Essential Power (STEP) Pilot Program is available to residents of Atlantic, Cape May, Monmouth, Ocean, and Middlesex counties and is intended to provide immediate and emergency repairs to return families to their homes and secure structures from additional damage this winter. Homeowners can apply through their municipalities for eligible repair work on residences, including electrical meter repairs, shelter essential measures, and rapid temporary exterior repairs to make their homes safe and habitable again, as permanent home repairs are sought. Qualified work will be administered and contracted through local municipal governments in coordination with FEMA for expenses up to $10,000. Only residential properties are eligible for STEP program work, and all work must be done within 60 days of approval and submission of Right of Entry permission. Expansion beyond these 5 initial counties will be evaluated in the future as need is identified.

The three categories of eligible repair work include the following:

- Residential Electrical Meter Repairs - Residential Electrical Meter Repair is intended to accelerate power restoration to residences with storm-damaged electrical meters when such repairs are required before power can be restored.
- Shelter Essential Measures – Shelter Essential Measures are intended to provide electricity, heat, and hot water to disaster-impacted residences to meet basic life-sustaining needs so that occupants may shelter-in-place until more permanent repairs can be made.
- Rapid Temporary Exterior Repairs –repairs included in this category are intended to provide necessary and essential assistance to protect storm-damaged residences from further damage that may present an immediate threat to life and property, and where appropriate, these repairs will facilitate sheltering-in-place as residents await repairs that are more permanent.

Complete STEP program guidance from FEMA can be found on the FEMA website. [http://www.fema.gov/library/viewRecord.do?id=6709] Residents in eligible counties should call their local municipal government office to learn how the STEP Program will be implemented where they live. Health Concerns

In response to general health concerns in the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, the Department of Health and Senior Services opened a toll-free Public Health Call Center to provide callers with information about prevention and treatment of mold, disposal of spoiled food due to power outages and water concerns.

The call center was being staffed by health experts from the Department's Division of Epidemiology, Environmental and Occupational Health who answered questions about prevention/treatment of mold growth in flooded homes and businesses, disposal of food spoiled as a result of power outages and concerns about water that needs to be treated to make it safe for drinking and other uses.

The DHSS Call Center has now been closed, but if you have questions regarding mold, lead, asbestos, or flood water clean-up you can call 609.826.4950 or 609.826.4920.

Business Recovery Assistance Services

To support the recovery of New Jersey's businesses a series of business assistance services for those affected by the storm is now available. Information for all services may be accessed through New Jersey's Business Action Center (BAC), by calling 1-866-534-7789 or through their website. [<http://www.nj.gov/njbusiness>].

- Dispatch of Rapid Response team members to identified Disaster Recovery Centers to assist displaced workers
- Availability of services through New Jersey Youth Corps to assist non-profit, public and governmental entities in a variety of ways for disaster relief and clean-up.

In addition, BAC's Business Call Center is also the one-stop resource for more information on how to get businesses back up and running. The Call Center staff can assist with the following services:

- Arranging business facility inspections for buildings suffering major flood damage, as such conditions require structural integrity inspections before utility service can be restored. These inspections are handled in local code enforcement offices and by local code enforcement officials. Anticipating an enormous increase in such work, the Department of Community Affairs has mobilized all qualified personnel to assist local governments in this effort.
- Advocate for businesses seeking assistance from local utilities to restore electric, phone, gas and water services.
- Advocate with insurance carriers to file and expedite claims.
- Provide information on how to qualify for federal recovery assistance, and

Tax Relief - The IRS announced that it is providing tax relief to individual and business taxpayers impacted by Hurricane Sandy that include certain taxpayers in New Jersey. The tax relief postpones various tax filing and payment deadlines that occurred starting in late October. As a result, affected individuals and businesses will have until Feb. 1, 2013 to file these returns and pay any taxes due. This includes the fourth quarter individual estimated tax payment, normally due Jan. 15, 2013.

It also includes payroll and excise tax returns and accompanying payments for the third and fourth quarters, normally due on Oct. 31, 2012 and Jan. 31, 2013 respectively. It also applies to tax-exempt organizations required to file Form 990 series returns with an original or extended deadline falling during this period.

The IRS will abate any interest, late-payment or late-filing penalty that would otherwise apply. The IRS automatically provides this relief to any taxpayer located in the disaster area. Taxpayers need not contact the IRS to get this relief.

For full details, about this and other tax related initiatives visit the IRS newsroom.

Financial Incentives through NJ's Clean Energy Program

Temporary financial incentives are being offered through the New Jersey Clean Energy Program to New Jersey residents, business owners and local government officials recovering from the damage of Hurricane Sandy.

If your home is located in a zip-code designated as a "major" or "minor" damaged area impacted by Hurricane Sandy, you may be eligible for these enhanced incentives on high efficiency equipment including furnaces, boilers, heat pumps, gas water heaters and mini-split units.

If you are located outside the eligible zip code list, you may also qualify for increased incentives by demonstrating that you have experienced damage caused by Hurricane Sandy. Applications for Hurricane Sandy relief incentives outside the eligible zip code list will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Qualifying equipment purchased on or after October 29, 2012 through June 30, 2013 is eligible.

Find application procedures, a list of qualifying locations, answers to frequently asked questions and more by going to NJ's Clean Energy Program website. Call 866-NJSMART, extension 4, to speak with someone about this incentive program.

Housing

Many homes did not survive the storm. Other homes are in need of major repairs. Below are some resources that may help you answer the question "Where am I going to live now?". Please note: If you have received rental assistance funds from FEMA you will not be extended in the Temporary Shelter Assistance hotel program.

FEMA Benefits for Housing

FEMA provides disaster recovery assistance on many levels. To learn all about how to apply for assistance and how to contact FEMA if you have questions, start by familiarizing yourself with the process by reading the portion of this guide that is devoted to FEMA. Among the assistance provided by FEMA is a subsidy towards transitional housing and temporary housing while your residence is being repaired.

FEMA may be able to help you with temporary housing:

- Transitional Shelter Assistance (TSA)
Short-term lodging assistance for evacuees who are not able to return home for an extended or indeterminate period of time following a disaster. FEMA may provide Transitional Shelter Assistance in hotels and motels to those who continue to need housing after shelters have closed because they are unable to return to their homes. Find participating hotels.
[<http://www.femaevachotels.com/>] This program ended on March 8, 2013.

- Rental Payments for Temporary Housing
This is sometimes provided for those whose homes are unlivable. Initial assistance may be provided for up to three months for homeowners and at least one month for renters. Benefits may be extended for up to 18 months, based on a review of individual applicant requirements.
- Security Deposits - Up to one month of financial temporary housing assistance may be used toward your security deposit. In order to receive continued financial temporary housing assistance, you must submit documentation to show that funding was used toward a security deposit.
- Utility costs refer to the cost of basic utility services, such as heating, water, and electricity. Utility costs do not include cable television, internet, or telephone service.

FEMA Temporary Shelter Assistance Still Available

Thousands of New Jersey survivors answered "will not relocate" when FEMA housing inspectors asked what they planned to do while repairs are being made on their homes or apartments. That response made them ineligible for FEMA temporary housing assistance. Some who would like FEMA help today may find the window still open.

Here's what to do if you want temporary housing assistance now:

- If it has been less than 30 days since you received a FEMA determination letter, call 800-621-3362 and tell FEMA that your housing situation has changed and that you'd like temporary housing assistance.
- If it has been more than 30 days since you received a FEMA determination letter, you will need to reply in a letter to FEMA stating that you want to change your earlier response, explain how your circumstances have changed and that you'd like FEMA temporary housing assistance.

Survivors can follow up on previous applications online at DisasterAssistance.gov, or by web-enabled mobile device at m.FEMA.gov. By phone or 711/VRS, call 800-621-FEMA (3362) or TTY 800-462-7585. Help is also available at FEMA Disaster Recovery Centers [<http://www.nj211.org/HurricaneDRC.cfm>].

American Red Cross Recovery Efforts Continue

The American Red Cross is working with families and individuals whose home remains uninhabitable as a result of Hurricane Sandy. NJ Housing Resource Center (NJHRC)

This is an online, housing information clearinghouse designed to help all New Jerseyans with their housing-related needs. Landlords throughout New Jersey are opening their available properties to Hurricane Sandy victims. Many of these properties are now listed on the NJHRC. The site hosts information on available properties statewide, and the database is updated daily. Searches on the database can be narrowed to limit your results to include a specific type of housing unit and the site includes maps and pictures and is updated bi-weekly to give an accurate reflection of housing availability in our state. Visit the NJHRC website. [<http://www.njhousing.gov/>] and click on "Find Housing" or call 877.428.8844 for more housing information.

The FEMA Housing Portal

This site intended to help individuals and families, who have been displaced by a disaster, find a place to live. The portal consolidates rental resources identified and provided by federal agencies, such as the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), U.S. Veterans Administration (VA), private organizations, and the public, to help individuals and families find available rental units in their area. Once you find a suitable listing, call to see if it is still available. Visit the FEMA Housing Portal. [<http://asd.fema.gov/inter/hportal/home.htm>]

Housing Choice Voucher Program (HCV)

As an emergency measure to assist survivors of Hurricane Sandy, the Christie Administration has set aside 1,000 vouchers from the state-administered Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program to help low-income households that were displaced by the storm in moving into permanent housing. Funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the HCV program will provide vouchers that will be used as "Special Admissions" for households that cannot return to their homes. The vouchers average approximately $9,840 per year per household.

The HCV program provides decent, safe and sanitary housing to very low income households in the private rental market by reducing housing costs through direct rent subsidy payments to landlords. Households that meet the income eligibility requirements generally pay between 30 to 40 percent of their adjusted monthly income towards their housing cost.

Those eligible for this program must meet the following requirements:

- You must be registered with FEMA and have a gross household income up to 40% of Area Median Income.
- You must have rented an apartment or owned a primary home that is no longer habitable due to the storm.
- You must be legally in the United States.

Vouchers will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis. Applicants, who are storm survivors in motel/hotel type housing, with special emphasis on households with children, will be referred by a collaborating agency such as FEMA. Applications will be accepted from households that are referred by the collaborative agency, can verify displacement from their housing as a direct result of Hurricane Sandy, and meet all other program eligibility standards. Any assistance awarded cannot be concurrent with housing assistance from another source. Also, applicants are required to provide proof of identity, citizenship status, Social Security Numbers, birth records, income records for all household members, along with proof of survivor status.

To receive an application and program guidelines, call 609-633-6606, e-mail Hurricane.Sandy@DCA.State.NJ.US or dial 2-1-1. Download a flyer about this program. [http://www.nj211.org/images/HurricaneSandy/SandySection8Flyer.pdf]

Protection Against Foreclosure and Eviction Extended

The Federal Housing Administration (FHA), Fannie Mae, and Freddie Mac have extended expiring protections against foreclosure actions against homeowners whose properties were damaged or destroyed due to Hurricane Sandy. The additional 90-day foreclosure moratorium applies to homeowners with properties in states where the President issued major disaster declarations following Hurricane Sandy.

FHA is extending moratoriums for another 90 days on the initiation of foreclosures and foreclosures already in process. It is also suspending evictions of persons from properties secured by FHA mortgages in these affected counties through April 30, 2013.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will also extend the suspension of foreclosure sales and eviction lockouts for borrowers impacted by Hurricane Sandy. In addition to the foreclosure sale and eviction moratorium, homeowners impacted by Hurricane Sandy may be eligible for forbearance, loan modifications or waived late payment charges. Change of Address

A change of address form is available online at <http://www.usps.com> or at any U.S. Postal Service location. Please be sure when you find permanent housing that your address is current and that FEMA has also been notified if you are expecting assistance.

Legal Services

Call 1-888-222-5765 to be connected to the Legal Services of New Jersey Hurricane Sandy Legal Assistance Hotline. The hotline was created to assist lower income New Jersey residents with civil legal problems caused by Hurricane Sandy or the aftermath of the storm. To those who qualify, all services are free.

The Hotline is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. You may also apply for Legal Services online [https://lsnjlawhotline.org/]. You will receive a response within 2 business days. Find out more here [http://www.nj211.org/images/HurricaneSandy/LSNJHurricaneSandyLegalAssistanceHotlineFlyer.pdf].

Disaster Legal Services are also being provided for free by the American Bar Association (Young Lawyers division.) A toll-free hotline number 1.888.541.1900 is now available for survivors in New Jersey facing legal issues due to Hurricane Sandy. Residents who cannot afford to pay an attorney can call the hotline to request free legal assistance

The type of legal assistance available includes:

- Assistance with replacing legal documents that may have been lost due to flooding
- Assistance with life, medical and property insurance-related claims
- Assistance in consumer protection matters, remedies, and procedures
- Counseling on mortgage-foreclosure problems
- Counseling on landlord/tenant problems
- Creditor-debtor matters
- FEMA appeals

Through an intake process, callers will be matched with a volunteer attorney who can provide assistance or general legal information regarding their issue. Callers should say that they are seeking legal assistance related to Hurricane Sandy. The hotline will be staffed during normal business hours, but messages can be left at any time.

The helpline is part of a long-standing partnership between FEMA and the ABA, and is administered by the New Jersey State Bar Association through its Mass Disaster Response Program.

Free legal services for nonprofit organizations are also available. The Pro Bono Partnership provides business and transactional legal services without charge to nonprofit organizations serving the disadvantaged or enhancing the quality of life in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. Contact them for legal assistance on issues that your organization may be facing as a result of Hurricane Sandy, such as questions concerning employee compensation, real estate issues, or insurance coverage. Your Rights as a Renter

Rent Abatement and Security Deposits

If you are a tenant and you have been displaced as a result of the storm, you may be entitled to a return of part of the rent you paid if you are unable to live in your home during that period of time. You also may not have to pay your rent for the months after that if you are not able to go back into your apartment. Finally, if you are able to return to your apartment, but it is not completely habitable, you may not have to pay all the rent.

Your displacement due to this natural disaster, may also entitle you to have your security deposit returned quickly. A landlord must return your security deposit within five business days if:

- The displacement is caused by fire, flood, condemnation or evacuation; and
- An authorized public official posts the premises with a notice prohibiting occupancy, or

- A building inspector has certified within 48 hours that displacement is expected to continue longer than seven days and has so notified the owner in writing.

Finding a Lost Pet / Caring for Pets When Returning Home

The New Jersey Department of Agriculture has been working with the state Office of Emergency Management, U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) to help dogs, cats and other pets and owners in need. A hotline for residents affected by Hurricane Sandy who left their pets behind when evacuating their homes in advance of the storm has now been opened. The phone number to call is 1-855-407-4787 (1-855-407-HSUS). Those who call the hotline will be asked for information to assist animal rescue teams in locating the animals and bringing them safely to a shelter. The hotline is available 24 hours a day.

It is also a good idea to contact veterinarians, humane societies, pet shelters, and other facilities that might house animals. Be prepared to identify and document ownership when claiming lost livestock. The United States Department of Agriculture Missing Pet Network at www.missingpet.net may be of assistance.

Once you and your pets return to your home, be careful about allowing your pets outdoors unattended and off-leash. The floods may have altered familiar scents and landmarks and your pet could easily get confused and become lost.

In addition, sharp objects, downed electric lines, fallen trees and other debris, or contaminated water could present a real danger to your pet. Raccoons, skunks or other wild animals may have entered the area and could also present a danger to your pets.

Caring for Farm Animals

Many areas lost power for days as a result of the storm. If you are a farmer with herds of animals and are experiencing difficulties getting adequate food or water for your herds as a result of this disaster event contact your County Office of Emergency Management for assistance in solving the issue on a local level. County Animal Response Teams (CARTs) may have resources and/or connections to assist the farmers.

If you or someone you know has an agricultural or animal care issue related to the storm you may also contact New Jersey Department of Agriculture at the office in Trenton 609-292-3965. For more information, go to:

Financial Services and Consumer Advice

If you believe you have been the victim of a fraud, or if you want to find out how to avoid fraud when making purchases and paying for services, contact the NJ Division of Consumer Affairs. Fourteen of the twenty-one counties in New Jersey have local offices. A review of this listing of County and Municipal Consumer Affairs Offices

[<http://www.njconsumeraffairs.gov/brief/caoffice.pdf>] will provide you with your local number. If you do not have a local office you may contact the Division of Consumer Affairs by telephone at (973) 504-6200 or (800) 242-5846 (toll free, New Jersey only); E-mail: askconsumeraffairs@lps.state.nj.us ; or by mail at 124 Halsey Street, Newark, New Jersey 07102.

Disaster Case Management Program

Individuals and families in New Jersey with unmet needs as a result of Hurricane Sandy may be eligible to receive additional support and help from the New Jersey Disaster Case Management Program. There is no cost for this service.

The Disaster Case Management Program can help anyone that has been affected by Hurricane Sandy and still has unmet needs. Including:

- Those who are not eligible for FEMA
- Those who received FEMA assistance but still have unmet needs

It is important to note that all individuals who are undocumented are eligible for Disaster Case Management (DCM) even if they are not eligible for FEMA. FEMA does not have access to the DCM client's information.

Disaster Case Managers are available to help survivors:

- Develop a recovery plan
- Find resources
- Obtain referrals
- And provide one-on-one assistance to anyone with disaster-related needs that have not been met.

Regardless of the amount of funds or assistance received from insurance, local, state or federal programs, a Disaster Case Manager is available to speak with you. You do not need to register with FEMA to receive Disaster Case Management. This program is open to all persons who were affected by Hurricane Sandy in all 21 counties in New Jersey.

Case Managers are available Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Call 877-510-6762 or e-mail: dcmNewJersey@CatholicCharitiesUSA.org for assistance.

Here you will find links to clean-up booklets with step-by-step instructions as well as videos that will demonstrate clean-up methods. Remember, flood waters must recede before clean-up can begin and there are many people who have been affected by this storm so you may have to wait for assistance.

VI. RETURNING HOME AND CLEAN-UP

Drinking Water Precautions

Power outages often occur in many municipalities as a result of storm waters. Public Water Utilities in these areas recommend specific safety precautions be taken to be sure that the water is safe for drinking, cooking, bathing and washing. To find out what is recommended in your area, contact your local municipality or call your water company.

BOIL WATER ADVISORIES IN EFFECT

Every day since Hurricane Sandy hit our shores, boil water advisories (BWA) have been announced. These advisories change as conditions change. To get the most current information read alerts posted on your municipality's website or follow announcements issued through the NJOEM Alerts and Updates. [http://readynj.posterous.com/]

If you get your water from a private well, flush the well until the water is clear and free of sediment. To do this, attach a hose to an outside spigot and turn the water on. After the water is clear, then test the well for coliform bacteria. Do not drink the water until it has been tested if your well was under floodwater or if the water was dirty or cloudy when you turned it on.

Use bottled or boiled water until the testing can be done. To properly boil water, bring water to a rolling boil and hold it there for one minute. Let it cool and use as needed for drinking, cooking, brushing teeth, washing hands and for your pets.

Call your local health department for information on disinfecting private wells.

Debris Removal

Call your local municipality to find out what is being done to collect debris in your area.

Inside the Home

- Keep children and pets out of the affected area until cleanup has been completed.
- Wear rubber boots, rubber gloves, and goggles during cleanup of affected area.
- Remove and discard items that cannot be washed and disinfected (such as, mattresses, carpeting, carpet padding, rugs, upholstered furniture, cosmetics, stuffed animals, baby toys, pillows, foam-rubber items, books, wall coverings, and most paper products).
- Remove and discard drywall and insulation that has been contaminated with sewage or flood waters.
- Thoroughly clean all hard surfaces (such as flooring, concrete, molding, wood and metal furniture, countertops, appliances, sinks, and other plumbing fixtures) with hot water and laundry or dish detergent.
- Help the drying process by using fans, air conditioning units, and dehumidifiers.
- After completing the cleanup, wash your hands with soap and water. Use water that has been boiled for 1 minute (allow the water to cool before washing your hands).
- Or you may use water that has been disinfected for personal hygiene use (solution of 1/8 teaspoon of household bleach per 1 gallon of water). Let it stand for 30 minutes. If the water is cloudy, use a solution of 1/4 teaspoon of household bleach per 1 gallon of water.
- Wash all clothes worn during the cleanup in hot water and detergent. These clothes should be washed separately from uncontaminated clothes and linens.
- Wash clothes contaminated with flood or sewage water in hot water and detergent. It is recommended that a laundromat be used for washing large quantities of clothes and linens until your onsite waste-water system has been professionally inspected and serviced.
- Seek immediate medical attention if you become injured or ill.

Asbestos and Lead-Based Paint

New Jersey's Department of Health continues to remind residents of the importance of being aware that buildings and homes may contain asbestos since it was a common building material. Anyone who is removing walls or other parts of homes damaged by Hurricane Sandy should be cautious and determine if asbestos is present prior to removal. Home or business owners should first determine if the house or building contains asbestos by contracting with a professional asbestos inspector certified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) to conduct an inspection and take samples of any suspected asbestos-containing material. Anyone hired to remove asbestos must be licensed by the Department of Labor. Extensive training is required, including how to use personal protection equipment. While a homeowner is not required to be licensed, it is strongly recommend that only licensed professionals remove asbestos.

Additionally, if a home or building was built prior to 1978, it is important to test the paint before doing any renovation or remodeling of painted surfaces. If lead is detected, take all necessary precautions to ensure that lead-painted building components are removed in a safe manner. Protect your family and home - set up safely, control the dust, and clean up completely. For tips on protecting yourself from lead dust while doing repairs visit this EPA site [http://www.epa.gov/lead/rrp/do-it-yourselfers.html]. It is important to note that any contractors hired to conduct renovation work in homes built before 1978, must have received lead-safe training and are certified by the USEPA.

Read the NJ Department of Health's brochure [http://www.state.nj.us/health/er/documents/prepare_before_cleanup_flyer.pdf] for volunteers, community organizations, and home and businesses owners. It makes recommendations on how to identify mold and asbestos and suggests steps that can be taken to protect against these health hazards.

Mold

Para informacion en Espanol, favor visitar el sitio de internet

Mold in a damaged home can create serious health problems for residents following severe storms and flooding FEMA officials warn.

Mold flourishes in moist environments in water-damaged homes. It often appears as a fuzzy growth or a discoloration of surfaces, and may be accompanied by a musty, earthy odor or a foul stench. Residents are advised to use care when cleaning up the mold. If there are signs of mold growth in your home before you do anything about it you must decide who is best equipped to do the clean-up. This depends on a number of factors.

One consideration is the size of the mold problem. If the moldy area is less than about 10 square feet (roughly, less than a 3 ft. by 3 ft. patch), in most cases, you can handle the job yourself, following the guidelines below. If there has been a lot of water damage, and/or mold growth covers more than 10 square feet you may want to consult with a professional cleaning service. Who should do the cleanup depends on a number of factors. One consideration is the size of the mold problem. If the moldy area is less than about 10 square feet (roughly, less than a 3 ft. by 3 ft. patch), in most cases, you can handle the job yourself, following the guidelines below. However:

- If there has been a lot of water damage, and/or mold growth covers more than 10 square feet you may want to consult with a professional cleaning service.
- If you choose to hire a contractor (or other professional service provider) to do the cleanup, make sure the contractor has experience cleaning up mold. Check references and ask the contractor to follow the recommendations in EPA's Mold Remediation in Schools and Commercial Buildings, the guidelines of the American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists (ACGIH), or other guidelines from professional or government organizations.
- If you suspect that the heating/ventilation/air conditioning (HVAC) system may be contaminated with mold (it is part of an identified moisture problem, for instance, or there is mold near the intake to the system), consult EPA's guide Should You Have the Air Ducts in Your Home Cleaned? before taking further action. Do not run the HVAC system if you know or suspect that it is contaminated with mold - it could spread mold throughout the building.
- If the water and/or mold damage was caused by sewage or other contaminated water, then call in a professional who has experience cleaning and fixing buildings damaged by contaminated water. To access lists of consultants, laboratories, remediation firms and trade groups who provide various environmentally-related services click here.
[http://www.state.nj.us/health/iep/mold_ta.shtml]
- If you have health concerns, consult a health professional before starting cleanup.

HAZARDS OF MOLD INFESTATION

- Do not spend time in houses with mold. Nasal stuffiness, throat irritation, coughing or wheezing, eye irritation, or, in some cases, skin irritation may occur.
- People with mold allergies may have more severe reactions. Immune-compromised people and people with chronic lung illnesses, such as obstructive lung disease, may get serious infections in their lungs when they are exposed to mold. These people should stay away from areas that are likely to have mold.

Tips and Techniques to Remove Mold

The tips and techniques presented in this section will help you clean up your mold problem. Professional cleaners may use methods not covered in this publication. Please note that mold may cause staining and cosmetic damage. It may not be possible to clean an item so that its original appearance is restored.

Before you begin

Use fans at open windows or doors to dry a flooded residence, but be sure they blow outward, not inward, to avoid spreading the mold. Accelerate the drying process by using a dehumidifier to extract moisture from the air and the contents of your home. Do not use an air conditioning system until it has been checked by a professional. Using a system contaminated by mold will spread the mold throughout the house. Instead, open windows and doors to provide fresh air.

Discard porous materials such as carpet, mattresses, upholstered furniture insulation and ceiling tiles which are infected by mold. Wallboard, drywall and particle board are also porous and should be discarded. Workers should wear masks, protective eyewear and non-porous gloves while handling anything that is suspected of containing mold.

Immediate actions you can take to remove mold:

- Clean the area to remove, as much as possible, the mold and the material on which it is growing
- Clean with a non-ammonia detergent in hot water
- Scrub the entire area affected by the moisture
- Use a stiff brush or cleaning pad on block walls or uneven surfaces
- Rinse the area with clean water
- Thoroughly dry the area as quickly as possible
- Repeat cleaning as necessary to remove mold
- Disinfect with a 10% bleach solution (1 cup of bleach to 1 gallon of water), by applying a thin coat of bleach solution to the entire area, ensuring that the entire area is cleaned, not just the area where the moisture problem occurred. Use a sprayer or a sponge to apply the solution liberally, but avoid excessive amounts of runoff or standing pools
- Allow the area to dry naturally. Drying time is important for the disinfectant to be effective at killing mold and bacteria

Further Advice

- Never mix bleach and ammonia. The fumes are toxic!
- Do not paint or caulk moldy surfaces. Clean up the mold and dry the surfaces before painting. Paint applied over moldy surfaces is likely to peel.
- If you are unsure about how to clean an item, or if the item is expensive or of sentimental value, you may wish to consult a specialist. Specialists in furniture repair, restoration, painting, art restoration and conservation, carpet and rug cleaning, water damage, and fire or water restoration are commonly listed in phone books. Be sure to ask for and check references. Look for specialists who are affiliated with professional organizations.

Beware of Scams

- Don't become the victim of disaster-related scams. The following tips are provided by the NJ Division of Consumer Affairs.
- Before you begin making repairs to your home make sure that the professional you are about to hire is licensed to do the repair work.
- Ask to see identification before you let anyone who claims to be from a utility company inspect your home.
- Never give your credit card number or financial information to strangers over the phone or on the Internet.
- It is customary not to pay for the entire home improvement project in advance. Pay one-third beforehand, one-third halfway through and one-third upon completion.
