RESOURCES OPENED IN RESPONSE TO WINTER WEATHER

Code Blue notifications and resources opened in response to severe cold or storm events change as quickly as the weather. This listing reflects information most recently received but you should always call ahead to confirm that the locations noted are still available.

Offices of Emergency Management
The NJ Office of Emergency Management [http://www.ready.nj.gov/about/association.html] has links to all County Offices of Emergency Management. The state communicates on social media channels as well. Visit their OEM Facebook page. County Facebook pages (when available) are also noted in the county listings of this document.

County Websites and Alert Notification Systems
In storm emergencies it is customary that county government will make an effort to alert their residents by posting information on their county website. Here you will find alert notifications, information about how to sign up to receive email notifications during times of emergency events and announcements about government closings. In the county listing that follows we have provided the most current notifications we know of as well as a link to the county website so that you can avail yourself of further information.

How Code Blue Works
When temperatures drop below freezing, and conditions pose a threat to individuals who are homeless or medically fragile, a network of agencies throughout New Jersey helps people obtain shelter, food and clothing.

During times such as these, county or municipal government will often initiate a Code Blue Alert which enables authorities to take homeless adults to shelter programs that have agreed to make additional beds available. Warming Centers are also opened during stated hours to provide residents with a place that they can go to warm up.

County Offices of Emergency Management together with county government will communicate Code Blue Alerts and the opening of Warming Centers through local media and social media outlets. Often this information is also posted on municipal and county websites. Additionally, many counties have started sharing this information with NJ 2-1-1. As we hear of locations that are available when a Code Blue Alert is activated, we will post the information here.

A Homeless Hotline for each county is also provided as a resource for assistance for those who are homeless. To find additional resources (beyond what is noted below) in your area, search our resource database using the search term: emergency shelter. To get further details on a county’s homeless hotline... and shelter, search using the term: emergency shelter clearinghouses. Learn more about housing alternatives in New Jersey by reading our housing resource pages.

For information about how to handle a complaint of no heat, see the final section of this document.

A Code Blue is in effect March 23, 2015 through March 24, 2015.

A Code Blue has been called by Union County Department of Human Services, due to predicted weather conditions. Emergency shelters are expected to extend capacity to highest possible levels tonight, utilizing the additional cots provided by UCDHS. The individuals/families sheltered during a Code Blue must be screened and referred by the UC Division of Social Services (UCDSS). REMEMBER: After hour referrals (after 4:00 p.m.) should continue to be directed by phone to the Plainfield Area YMCA at (908) 756-6061 or to the Salvation Army in Elizabeth at (908) 352-2886. Both shelters will accept walk-ins when possible during a Code Blue.
After hours and when County offices are closed, shelter is available at

Heat Complaints

Based on a document on tenants' rights published by LSNJ http://www.lsnjlaw.org/Publications/Pages/Manuals/TenantsRights.pdf (p. 30) landlords must provide heat as required by the state codes and the local town or city ordinance. Under the state housing codes, from October 1-May 1, the landlord must provide enough heat so that the temperature in the apartment is at least 65 degrees from 6 pm - 11 am and 68 degrees all other times. The housing inspector or board of health in your town enforces the heat requirements in the state and local codes. Larger cities have special no-heat hotlines that are set up especially to handle complaints.

Hotlines (this list is now being researched but here is what we could find)

East Orange
Heat Hotline for the city of East Orange: Tenants residing in apartments without heat and hot running water, or who have had their utilities shut off, can call the Department of Property Maintenance at 973-266-5320.

Jersey City
Select this request if your rental apartment or building does not have heat or hot water. If this is an emergency call the 24 hour H/HW hotline: (201) 547-4821.

Newark
Tenants residing in apartments without heat and hot running water, or who have had their utilities shut off, can call the City of Newark’s Non-Emergency Call Center at (973) 733-4311, Mondays to Fridays, from 7 am to 7 pm. On weekends and holidays, please contact the “No Heat Hotline” at (973) 733-6471, from 10 am to 7 p.m.

Anyone with questions about the City’s no-heat ordinances or any other Newark municipal policy or program can contact the Newark Non-Emergency Call Center at (973) 733-4311.

Orange Township
To report heating problems or related issues call:
Curtiss H. Webb – 973-277-1869
Khalfani Alleyne – 973-296-8419

Trenton
The Division of Housing Inspections is responsible for enforcing the housing codes in the City of Trenton. These codes cover the minimum standards required for occupancy of all residential structures in the City. The Division is also responsible for the enforcement of all regulations covering privately owned vacant land and vacant properties. The City maintains an inventory of all vacant property and yearly issues a contract for the emergency boarding of abandoned property under Court Order.
All complaints regarding any violations may be given to the Division by calling (609) 989-3563.

If you know of other resources that are related to CODE BLUE initiatives or Heat Hotlines in your area, please send them to info@nj211.org.
